GOING TO KANSAS IN JANUARY, 1893

By John J. Fry, Dover, Del.

I will give what I remember when we moved from Indiana to Kansas. It was cold in Indiana but not zero. We stopped in Iowa to see our uncles and aunts, Uncle Benjamin Hochstetlers, John C. Millers (Aunt Fannie), Sam Hofers (Aunt Katie), and also cousins, think we stayed over two Sundays.

Some places in Iowa the railroads were snowbound and was slow traveling so Mam got disgusted, she said going through this to get to Kansas and she would have been well satisfied to stay in Indiana, it was about the first words I ever heard her say against Dad's plan, and it was no wonder, from some place near Muscatine we went on a caboose with just the engine and snowplow in front, it was not a very smooth ride and crowded with men with shovels and Dads with 8 children, they were opening up the road and got stuck several times and then had more trouble, 2 horses got on the tracks ahead of us, trying to escape the horses got to a bridge, they hit 1 horse with the engine, it went down a steep grade and was laying there with a broken leg, we stopped, the men asked one another to go and kill the crippled horse but, as far as I know, nobody went.

Finally we got to Washington, where Uncle John C. Miller was with 2 horses in a sled and took us to their home in a nice warm house and we did not have to suffer any more and Mam looked much better and told her sister Fannie about our trip. We visited uncles and aunts and some cousins till time came to leave for Kansas, John C. took us in his sled the snow was so hard packed he drove right over a hedge fence close by his home. We got to Washington in due time for the train.

GOING TO KANSAS (Conclusion)

It seemed winter was checking up, the large icicles were thawing and the water was dripping from them. We left on Monday, came to Haven, Kansas on Tuesday where cousin Jonas Bontrager took us to their home, it was January 24th, Lizzie's and Daniel's birthday, and the weather was very nice and not cold.

I didn't know much about the world then as I was 10½ years and 24 days old and very much surprised and tickled over the weather, I think the first day I saw one of Jonas B's boys go bare-foot, they had a sandpile to play in, the next surprise was wild geese and ducks flying in the air, some days we could see them in almost all directions, I thought it was wonderful.

I heard Mam say afterwards that she didn't think we would ever get to Kansas, she was very downhearted on the road but I wasn't scared about it as I was just wondering what Kansas would look like and praying to God to lead us through.
